

London Met Multi-Factor Authentication Guide

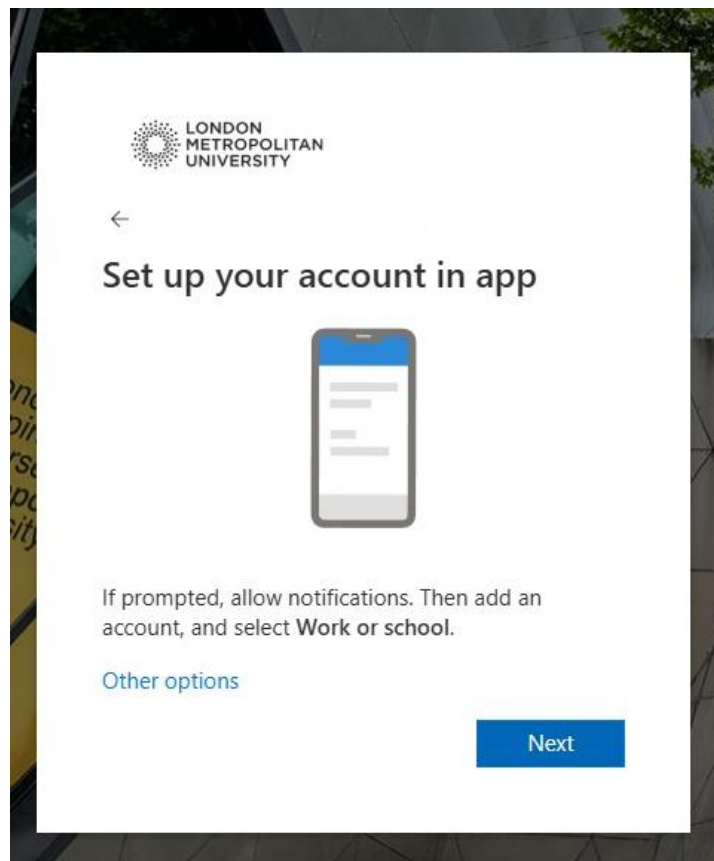

Step-by-step procedure guide to turn on multi-factor authentication for London Met ID through e:Vision

Step-1: Go to London Met's e:Vision portal and log in using your London Met ID credentials.

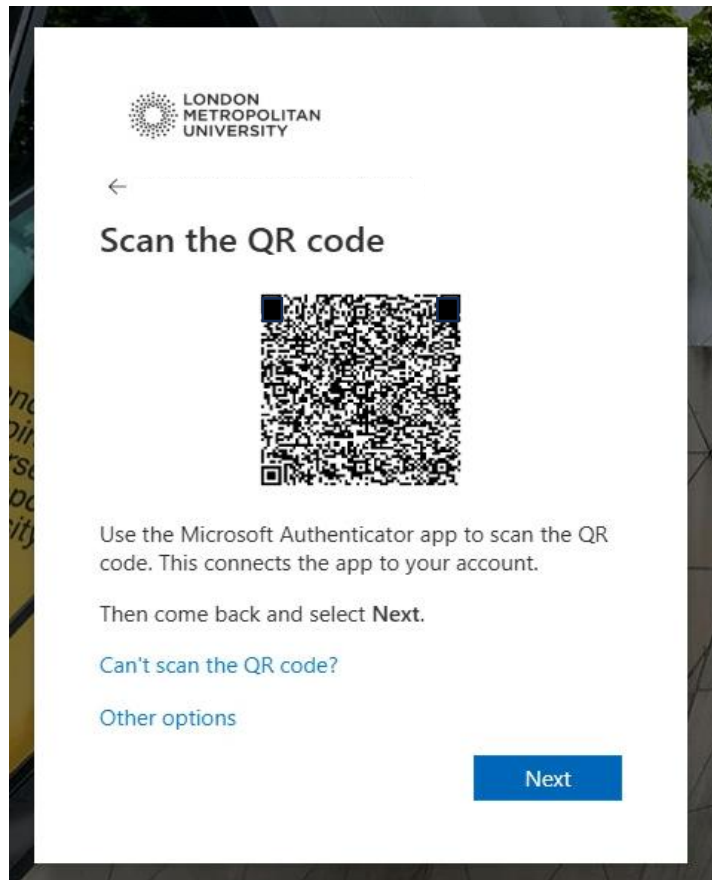

The screenshot shows the London Met e:Vision portal. At the top, there is a navigation bar with 'University home' and 'Staff Zone' buttons, a search icon, and a 'Quick links' button. Below this is the London Metropolitan University logo and a blue 'STUDENT ZONE' banner. A horizontal menu contains links: 'Your studies', 'Life at London Met', 'Fees and funding', 'International', 'Jobs and employment', 'IT resources', and 'A to Z'. The breadcrumb trail reads 'Home > IT resources > e:Vision'. The main heading is 'e:Vision', followed by the text: 'e:Vision allows you to access information and complete tasks essential to your studies. You can use e:Vision from inside or outside the University.' A blue button labeled 'Log into e:Vision' is highlighted with a red box and a red arrow points to it from the left. On the right side, there is a vertical menu with the following items: 'e:Vision', 'IT help and support', 'Change my password', and 'Printing, photocopying and scanning'.

Step-2: During login, you'll be prompted to set up multi-factor authentication. Download the Microsoft Authenticator app on your phone, then select "Add account" and choose Work or school account when setting it up.

Step-3: A QR code will appear on your screen. Open the Authenticator app on your phone and scan it to link your London Met account to the app.

Step-4: Once your account is linked, e:Vision will display a number on screen. Enter this number into the Authenticator app on your phone to confirm and approve the sign-in request.

Step-5: Once verified, you'll be signed in to e:Vision with multi-factor authentication successfully enabled on your London Met account.
